An Irish Owned Company manufacturing in Ireland since 1988. Proudly supporting Irish jobs

Current ROI Building Regulations Document J 2014 apply. All flue and chimney systems must be installed according to current Building Regulations. Carbon Monoxide Alarms must be fitted in line with these Regulations.

For Sunroom and Single storey extensions refer to the Building Regulations for required chimney heights.

Sys 1 = Single Wall Connecting Flue pipe and Rigid Chimney Liner
Sys 2 = Twin Wall Insulated Chimney
Sys 7 = Vitreous Enamel Connecting Flue Pipe
Sys 35 = Flexible Flue Liner
Other Systems available on request

CE 0120
Fully CE Marked Product

Building Regulations Document J 2014 specify the following:

1. All Stainless Steel connecting flue pipe must have a minimum steel wall thickness of 1.2mm and a minimum temperature designation of 600°C.
2. All Vitreous Enamel connecting flue pipes must be capable of operating at temperatures of 600°C. 600°C = T600
3. All Stainless Steel connecting flue pipe must have a minimum steel wall thickness of 1mm 316 grade
4. All Vitreous Enamel connecting flue pipe must have a minimum steel wall thickness of 1.2mm

For the Know How You Need

Current Building Regulations for Sunroom and Single storey extensions refer to the Building Regulations for required chimney heights.

Mi-Flues has adopted a policy of continuous product review. In the interests of development and improvement the company reserves the right to vary the appearance and performance of any of its products without prior notice. Chart is for illustration purposes. Correct at time of print. For updates please check our website.